

Employee Lifecycle Management Database Schema

Overview

The Employee Lifecycle Management application stores all employee lifecycle information in custom ServiceNow tables. Each table is connected through reference fields to maintain data consistency and automate business processes.

Entity Relationship Diagram

Database Relationships

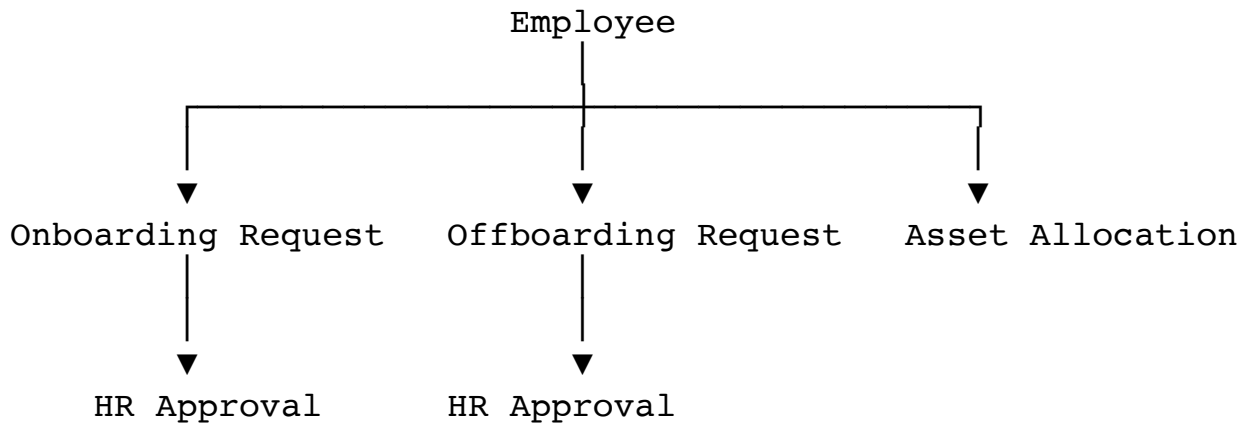

Table Description

1. Employee

Purpose:

Stores all employee master information.

Fields

- Employee ID
- Employee Name
- Email
- Department
- Designation
- Manager
- Status

Primary Key: Employee ID

2. Onboarding Request

Purpose:

Stores new employee onboarding requests.

Reference: Employee

Fields

- Employee

- Joining Date
- Department
- Approval Status
- Status

3. Offboarding Request

Purpose:

Stores employee exit requests.

Reference: Employee

Fields

- Employee
- Last Working Day
- Reason
- Status

4. HR Approval

Purpose:

Stores approval information generated by Flow Designer.

Reference: Employee

Fields

- Employee
- Approver
- Approval Status

5. Asset Allocation

Purpose:

Stores IT asset allocation details.

Reference: Employee

Fields

- Employee
- Asset Type
- Asset Tag
- Allocation Date
- Status

Relationships

Parent Table	Child Table	Relationship
Employee	Onboarding Request	One to Many
Employee	Offboarding Request	One to Many
Employee	Asset Allocation	One to Many
Employee	HR Approval	One to Many

Advantages

- Eliminates duplicate employee records
- Supports automation through Flow Designer
- Maintains referential integrity
- Enables reporting across all lifecycle activities